Research

We encourage CoP members to email karen.cook@amho.ca with submissions to include. Content examples: community led projects, peer reviewed articles, grey literature, government publications, etc.

The Canadian Centre on Substance Use and Addiction is currently conducting an online survey to better understand the experiences of people who provide harm reduction services. The survey should take approximately 30 minutes to complete. The survey will remain open until March 24 or until 700 responses are received. If you have any questions, please contact suic@ccsa.ca

- Opioid and Stimulant-related Harms in Canada
- A treatment algorithm for ADHD in cocaine-dependent adults: A one-year private practice study with long-acting stimulants, fluoxetine, and bupropion
- Effective drug therapy for cocaine dependence: a milestone.
